JOURNAL'S ROCK SHARP

He Discusses the Parsees.

A Bureau of Information for Prospectors and Miners.

(Address all communications to the Rock Sharp, care of L. F. Stallings, Reno, Nevada.)

R. J. Reno—I have never seen "Parsee," the Prospector, and consequently am not able to give you any definite information concerning him. Probably he does not differ materially from his brethren in India and Persia.

The Parsees are members of a religious sect, who follow the teachings of the prophet Zoroaster, the apostle of fire worship. In the Parsee temples there is kept ever burning a fire which they worship in olden times the fire worshipers were accustomed to scrap with much energy and enjoyment upon all possible occasions, being in this respect like another sect known as the cathars, which still numbers many adherents in the southern States of the country.

The first of the Arab conquerors to reach the Parsees or Ghebers in Persia, their stronghold found his reception to be hot and heavy that he thought one had handed him a bunch of fireballs. The Arab won, however, in the end, and the Ghebers were driven out of the fighting name. It is recorded that any of them went upon the scene, but many started a fire of the olden type and in India they are today the chief dispensers of magic. The Parsees are the wealthiest and most successful merchants in the Orient, far outclassing the Chinese and even the ubiquitous Hebrew. Business is a skin game in the far east but the Parsee turns his own hide into while he habitually skins the Chinaman and the Hebrew and sells them their own pelts at more than market prices.

"Parsee, the Prospector" probably wears flowing garments, something like a robe de nuit. Probably he also wears a look of much wisdom, the Parsees I saw in the Orient being all thus endowed. Although he speaks of himself as a prospector it is not likely that you can track him over the hills but the rocks he has broken, nor is it likely that any corns are to be found on his palm. His prospecting is probably of the kind commonly designated as "seeing what you can see."

It would be well for you to bear in mind the proper mode of salvation so as to make no mistake should you meet him. You should make a low bow and wrasp his hand "Brother," you should say. "Would it not be fitting that the sacred fire within thee be replenished with a little of the heavenly fuel, oft called firewater?"

Assuming that this Parsee is like "Some Parsees I have met" a smile of ethereal sweetness will overpread his countenance and it will then be proper for you to turn to Mr. H. Cohn, the Feeder of the Sacred Fire, and say: "Set out thy holiest brand."

J. B. Reno—Miner's strawberries are the product of a plant quite common and are of great commercial value. They do not resemble the ordinary strawberry, being different in flavor and of great sustaining power. They are generally served as a hambone. Miner's strawberries are vulgarly called beans.

G. H. Verdell—Tamping giant powder is very different from pounding sand into a rat hole and unless you get some one to show you how the trick is done you will find your past experience of very little use when you try to work in a mine. Try again, Mr. G. H.

A. Nelson, Reno—The song which is best liked by miners and prospectors in general is a familiar melody, which you must know well. The first words are "Rock of Ages cleft for me." The miner sings this beautiful song when he finds a crevice which he can gopher and shoot, thereby avoiding drilling.

Turning Them to Advantage.

The old prison walls at Reno which cost $118,000 to build and were never used, are now being put to a good use by Dr. Patterson, Superintendent of the Asylum, says the Appeal.

He used the space inside the walls for water storage. The water which heretofore run to waste is now stored in the reservoir and this gives the asylum so much more water to use next day. The scheme which ought to have been thought of many years ago gives the State additional water rights worth at least $50,000.

The walls are about twenty feet in height and as they do not need more than six feet for the reservoir use the surplus is being torn down and being used for repairs and buildings for the University and asylum.

This plan is in accordance with a bill passed by the last legislature and will save thousands of dollars to the State.

TO PARENTS AND STUDENTS. Straining the eyes while studying means inflamed eyelids, headaches, nervousness, cross eyes, muscular weakness and thousand other defects. Parents should help to make studying a pleasure for children, instead of a task, by taking them to the Frank Golden Jewelry Company and having their eyes properly examined to see if there is any defect in the eyesight.

A Very Successful
Balloon Ascension.

One of the prettiest balloon ascensions ever witnessed in Reno was made Sunday afternoon at "The Turf." Prof. H. Herrick was the aeronaut and the ascension was made under the direction of Prof. Robert Earlston. A slight breeze was blowing from the northwest and the balloon was carried over town, falling on the roof of the car shops. The parachute descended near the N-C-O. passenger station.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MISS WINTERS

Injuries Sustained in a Run-away —Their Extent not Known.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Neva Winters, daughter of Hon. Theo Winters, met with quite a serious accident.

She was driving a pair of young horses in a spring wagon from her father's house in Washoe Valley to take some supplies to the men working in a field some distance away. Miss Neva is an experienced driver, but by some mishap the horses got the better of her and started to run.

They ran some distance, when the young lady was thrown violently from the vehicle and under the heels of the horses, a fore and hind wheel passing over her body.

She was badly injured in the spine and it was feared that one of her legs was broken, but before Dr. Huffaker of Carson, who was sent for arrived, The Journal's informant had left the ranch, so it is impossible to give the extent of her injuries.

Miss Neva's sister and a young lady from Carson were also in the wagon and were thrown with the seat to the ground, but clear from the horses and vehicle and escaped injury.

ANOTHER ADDITION TO RIVERSIDE TOWN

Lots Surveyed and Streets Opened on the Coming Nob Hill.

Realty in Reno is looking up and those who are wise will take time by the forelock. The future of our town is well assured and those who are interested in building and making Reno their home will do well in securing building locations while they are within the reach of those of moderate means.

The Journal is pleased to note that the tract of land back of the Seminary is plotted and thrown on the market. It is without doubt one of the best sites in or around Reno and only a short distance from the center of business.

These lots are put at a reasonable figure, ranging from $100 to $150 per lot of 50x140 feet.

The sewage runs directly to the river and water direct from the city's mains. The view is excellent and salubrious conditions prevail.

These lots can be procured on the installment plan and as an investment must prove attractive. Dr. St. George has certainly secured the banner tract.

Fair Grounds Appointees.

The following have been appointed to fill a portion of the Secretary of the State Fair association they will be assigned to the positions:

TERSE AND TO THE POINT

Little Bits of Items, but Still Worthy of Mention.

The attendance at the public school is increasing each day.

The next session of the Nevada Mission conference will be held in this city.

The new Chestnut street grammar school opened yesterday with a full attendance.

The dance that was to have been given in Ritter's Hall Saturday evening has been postponed until next Saturday.

There are forty-three horses in training at the race track and thirty or forty more are expected this week from California.

Superintendent Palmer of the Southern Pacific Company arrived in Reno Sunday evening in his private car and remained until Monday.

The "Three Links" propose giving an entertainment on Hollowe'en night for the benefit of the Orphans' Building Fund. Regular announcement later.

Dissertation on Nevada Spuds.

Nevada is again called upon to furnish California with spuds. A buyer was in town yesterday trying to secure a corner on the spud crop in this section. As a rule the tubers are taken to California in the winter or spring, but this year there is a shortage, not only in California, but in the eastern States, that suffered with the drought.

Nevada potatoes have become known as the best in the world and when a California produce man runs shy in his own State he comes to Nevada for the article. All that are shipped are of the first grade and when put along side of the watery product of the other side, they make it look like discarded bog spuds.

Most of the potato raisers are hanging on to their product, as they figure that the crop will be worth a high figure before the spring comes.—Carson Appeal.

Ready for Business.

The firm of Gray, Reid & Co. have opened for business in the store room, formerly occupied by S. Emrich in the building adjoining the Bank of Nevada building.

They have the largest line of dress goods ever brought to Reno. They also carry a splendid assortment of ladies' underwear and gentlemen's furnishings goods. Today the regular opening will take place and the store will be doubtless be thronged with customers. Messrs. Gray, Reid & Co. are young but experienced business men and they will doubtless do a big business.

An Irrigation Proposition.

Chas. Southworth was in town yesterday. He is working for the U. S. government, under L. H. Taylor, surveying irrigation canals, etc. Mr. Southworth and three other men are just now engaged in running a line for a canal from the Carson river, beginning at a point a half mile above Rodenhall's station and running north along the foothills on the east side of the valley thirteen or fourteen miles.

It will be necessary to construct a dam fifty feet high to get the water out of the river. The canal is designed to irrigate all the sagebrush lands on the east side of Carson Valley, about 22,000 acres.—Courier.

Good Words for the State Fair.

Nevada's State Fair opens at Reno, September 16th, and lasts one week. Entries to the trotting and pacing races close on Tuesday next, September 10th, and the full program of racing with amount of purses will be found in our business columns today, says the Breeder and Sportsman.

The Reno races are always well attended and there is plenty of opportunity to make money if one desires to back his horse. The harness races are held under National Rules, the track is first-class and the meetings always successful. Special rates can be had on the railroads and no more enjoyable trip can be had than the one to Reno.

Another Product of the Mining School.

T. W. Mack leaves tonight for El Oro State of Mexico, where he enters the employ of a Mexican Mining Company. This is the same company with which Emmett Boyle is engaged and who so successfully sustains the usual reputation of our University graduates.

Mr. Mack is a 'Varsity member of the class of '97 and has been engaged in underground surveying at Silver City and Suro up to the time of his departure. Tom is progressive.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

A Reno Boy Shot While Hunting.

The Right Lung Pierced by the Heavy Charge.

A sad and fatal accident occurred Sunday morning about 11 o'clock. Orrell M. Wheeler, son of Mrs. E. L. Drappo and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor, sustained injuries which resulted in death.

In company with Frank Menetti and Glenn Pike he started on a hunting expedition. When the heat of the sun began to affect the hunting party they came down to the town ditch. It was carried by a flume at that point and the Wheeler boy climbed up to drink. His gun was left leaning against the flume. In climbing down he used the gun as a support. In some unaccountable manner it was discharged and he received the charge under his right armpit. The barrel was charged with a shell loaded with an ounce of No. 7 shot and propelled with three and a quarter drachms of black powder. The charge tore a terrible hole in the boy's side and penetrated the upper portion of his right lung.

The lad was game and stood erect after receiving the fatal wound. One of his companions hurried down to the Capurro ranch for a conveyance, and in the meantime Wheeler walked a mile down the mountain to meet the team.

The physicians who were called to attend him noted that his respiration was nearly one a second and realized that the injury to the lung was too serious to remove the wads and shot and they were not probed for.

The boy remained conscious throughout the night until shortly after his death, which occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

He was sixteen years of age last December and was a boy of excellent qualities. He was born in Michigan and came here with his parents in early infancy. A sad coincidence is that his father also perished violently. He was caught and smothered in a snowslide seven years ago.

The funeral will take place from the Methodist Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Nevada Becoming "Some Pumpkins."

California cannot call us a hobo State anymore. They now doff their hat and say, please Mr. Nevada, we want your trade for we hear you have grown rich again and that you will continue to grow rich.

It also says we will palm no more spud fruit off on you. We're not going to take any chances on you, Miss Calif., you are an uncertain quantity.—Bonanza.

FORCE THEM TO TERMS.

THE Omaha Commercial Club is working vigorously in the interest of irrigation, and being located at the very gateway to the country requiring irrigation legislation, it is the proper body that should take up the subject of western consolidation. We mean a union of western legislators such as was proposed in a Journal article a few days ago, for the purpose of declaring opposition to the bitter end to legislation designed exclusively for the interest of the east, until the east shall consent to support irrigation legislation.

The Commercial Club is now sending thousands of letters to eastern business men, declaring it to be to the interest of the east as well as the west to provide appropriations for western irrigation. In regard to this method the Omaha World Herald says: Such letters may awaken discussion of the subject and thus serve a good purpose, but it is doubtful if they will have the effect desired, that of immediate legislation by congress. The east has so long ignored this question that there exists no ground for hope that it will take it up and act decisively and favorably upon such arguments as can be presented in a necessarily brief letter, which may or may not reach the business men's eye, according to the importance given to it by his private secretary.

It is only by some seriously effective blow that the east will or can be forced to recognize the necessities of the west. Such a blow is determined opposition to the rivers and harbors bill until the east sees defeat staring it in the face, and then it will do something.

The Omaha paper is right. The Commercial Club will do better service to the irrigation cause by writing letters to the western Representatives and Senators, urging such a combination as is above suggested. If the latter will so unite and so oppose all appropriations for rivers and harbors, it will force the eastern members to concede such legislation as the west has heretofore mildly requested as a matter of justice. As the World Herald declares, nothing can be effected by such appeals. We are of the same opinion, and also that what may be termed obstruction to legislation is the only alternative for the attainment of western rights and even-handed justice. Under the circumstances it is right in principle as well as policy.

There is an argument which has not been advanced so far as we have noticed, which ought to appeal forcibly to the common sense and economic judgment of all intelligent and far-minded men. The appropriation for irrigation are not like those for other purposes, under the head of Internal Improvements. By the provisions of the Newlands bill, the government is to be reimbursed in money for every dollar appropriated, while in matters of rivers and harbors, etc., no direct return is demanded or expected, and the only benefit the government receives for its expenditure is received from the general advantage to the commerce of the country. Irrigation appropriations are only monies loaned by the government to the people, and which are to be repaid dollar for dollar, while other appropriations are made with no provisions for their repayment. Under the Newlands bill the government will be directly reimbursed by the proceeds of the sale of the reclaimed lands at such prices in excess of the present rate of a dollar and a quarter an acre as will pay for every dollar expended. So, without any loss in money, the United States will derive all of the benefit of the increased wealth that will be produced by making productive millions of acres of land, which under present conditions is absolutely valueless, and which would go begging at a nickel an acre.

In short, the government will add more to the wealth of the nation, without cost to itself, than by the gift of five times the amount for the improvement of rivers and harbors.

ALABAMA'S NEW CONSTITUTION.

THE new constitution of Alabama, limits the meetings of its State legislature to a session of fifty days, once in four years. We believe that Alabama is the first to adopt quadrennial sessions. In some of the States there are annual, but in the majority of them they are biennial. Then the constitutional session limit of fifty days is less than in other States with possibly two or three exceptions. But the general feeling is increasing that frequent meetings are productive of harm rather than good, and for other reasons than the expense of holding them. If the experiment in Alabama is successful it will doubtless be followed by other States.

The elective franchise is the only other important change that has been made by the new constitution, and it indicates that the people of the south are willing to give the negro all of the rights accorded him by the Federal constitution. There is no distinction made between the whites and blacks in regard to voting qualifications. All applicants for the voting privilege will have the same conditions to fulfill after January 1st, 1903. Whites and blacks alike must be able to read and write the English language and must have a small property qualification. It is upon that they are engaged in some lawful occupation. It is a question of individuals and not of color, and the negroes should feel a great inspiration to prove that they have the ambition and ability to equip themselves for the test. Since the new constitution provides for a large increase in the minimum school appropriations, their educational future is largely within their own control, and, like the whites, they may gain property as a reward of intelligence and industry. If they fail to qualify it will not be for want of opportunity. The new constitution, as a whole is a gratifying proof that the white people of the south have no disposition to deprive the blacks of any of their rights, but are desirous of elevating them to a condition to appreciate and enjoy them.

HOW does Ernest Bingham or John H. Dennis or Judge Webster like that slate ticket that has been fixed up for them to boost into office?—Lovelock Tribune. Unless the fool killer in the meantime visits Lovelock, the editor of the Tribune might perhaps profitably communicate with the officers of the State Damphool Infirmary at Eureka, in relation to the matter of "slate" and "fixed" tickets, which appears to occupy the otherwise vacant interior of his inch and a half skull.

CONNECTICUT has furnished a twin brother to the notorious Judge Wing of Ohio, who sent a man to jail for asking another to join the union. Judge Bryant, who is a son-in-law of Franklin Farrell the founder of the Farrell Foundry and Machine Company, whose workmen were on a strike, fined one of the employees for saying, "the scabs have come to town."

FOR the bribe-giving Republicans of Pennsylvania to arraign the newspapers that have persistently exposed the rottenness of government under their auspices, as subsidized to do it, is the most phenomenal gall. If they were subsidized, they would be supporting the Republican organization. Bribery, as is notoriously known, has been the only lever for remaining in power.

The constitution is meeting with no more success in the yacht races than it did in the little tussle with the Supreme Court.—Silver State.

MINING IN THIS STATE

Culled News of Nevada's
Most Important Industry.

Geo. A. Treadwell of New York, who for many years past has been one of the most successful of the men engaged in mining operations in the West spent several days in Ely during the past week, examining the properties now being opened up here, in the interest of Eastern capitalists, and left for home Tuesday morning well pleased with the result of his observations.

The Consolidated California and Virginia mine has produced nearly 1750,000 in bullion from ore extracted on the 1750, 1950 and 2050 levels since those levels were unwatered.—Virginia Report.

It is said that considerable work is being done on the Mountain View property at Deer Lodge, Lincoln county. Two new whims are being operated and the outlook for the mine is very encouraging for the stockholders.

The suit of Mrs. Ida McKinley and Mrs. Mary E. Barber against John Steele et al. of Ely has been continued until November, at which time, unless sooner settled, it will come up for trial in the United States Court at Carson.

Work is to be resumed on a big scale in the mines of Kennedy district, Humboldt county.

AUGUST FLOWER.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houston, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson. Sold by all dealers in all civilized countries.

PIANOS ON EASY TERMS.

And at prices to suit any one. The prices range from two hundred and twenty-five dollars up—twenty-five dollars down and the balance in ten-dollar monthly installments.

These pianos are all fully guaranteed and have the latest improved action and are the style upright. No one on earth sells better pianos or better-tuned pianos, or gives more value for the money than C. J. Brookings. Brookings has lived and sold pianos in Reno for thirty years. Why not buy your piano of Professor Brookings, who knows all about pianos and has made them a great study for thirty years? Call at 224 Virginia street, C. J. Brookings' store.

NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her. This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50 cents and $1 Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

STOOD DEATH OFF.

E. B. Lundy, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germ and purifies the blood, aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous complaints, kidney troubles, female complaints, gives perfect health. Only 50 cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

A SHOCKING CALAMITY.

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Willford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist."

FREE FOR YOU.

The Co-Op. store will give it to the person guessing nearest to paid attendance at Reno Fair of 1907. A free guess every day you attend. Get blank at Co-Op exhibit or at store. Contest closes Saturday noon, 21st Sept 1907.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE.

WADSWORTH DISPATCHES

News of one of Washoe County's Mining Camps.

The Fortuna Hope shaft is down 200 feet. A sample taken from the bottom of the shaft assayed $232 in gold and 20 oz. of silver per ton. The shaft is all ore where the sample was taken.

A tunnel is being run on the Cabin No. 2 to tap the ledge 100 feet lower than the old workings. The tunnel is driven ahead 8 feet every 24 hours and is now in over 200 feet. It will soon strike the ledge. $40,000 is asked for one-half interest in this mine take it or leave it. There are places in the ledge where the free gold sparkles in the candle light and we saw ore panned out that goes $300 per ton. In working other than to block out ore. The mine thus worked has produced nearly $20,000. It is a great piece of property.

The Jumper claim has produced $3,000 and has plenty of ore in sight.

The boys working on the Slip continue to take out high-grade ore.

The Ora shows a ledge 70 feet wide in sulphuret ore averaging a little over $4 per ton.

Twenty dollar ore is being mined at the Woodchopper.

The Hutchinson is producing $20 ore. The ledge is being followed and wife to Monte Scheeline in Ryland's dips well.

The Gold Center is producing $25 to $30 ore.

There is scarcity of water and the mills are consequently idle for a time.

There will be a great time at the dance tomorrow night and the orchestra will make the hills ring with music.
